Interior Renovation

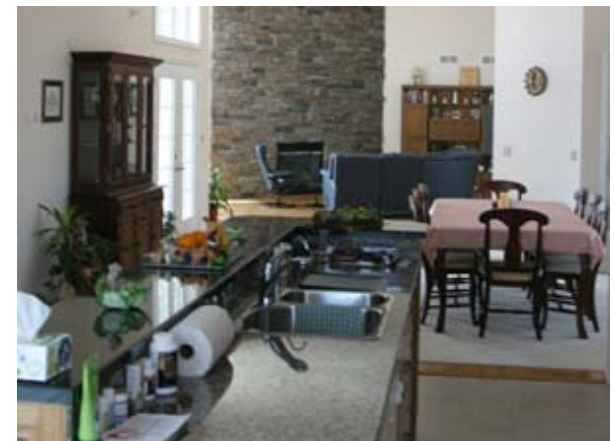

Homeowners are dramatically interested in transforming their homes into comfortable and functional living spaces.

Kitchens continue to expand and bathrooms include more luxurious elements; there is a new emphasis on creating specialty areas to fit individual family member needs – a home library, media centre, craft room, massage or spa area, wine cellar and home office are increasing in popularity. And home owners will not sacrifice quality for quantity.

Attractive, high quality materials are a priority.

Clients are also requesting energy-efficient, environmentally-friendly products. Self-replenishing goods like bamboo and cork – natural fibers for carpets and wallpaper – are finding a place in both new and renovated homes.

Owners are selecting energy-saving and water-saving devices for long-term savings. Efficiency – Function –
